Albert Gray, of Marion, was acquitted of the charge of making and having in possession counterfeit money. The arrest and indictment was made upon testimony furnished by George Foster, an alleged deteclive. He showed certificates from five diferent detective associations in establishment of his authority, but in three years he had earned only 25 cents. When W. L. Taylor, attorney for the defendant, asked how he made a living, he said he once "made a dollar shootin' squirrels and sellin' 'em." The prosecution entertains a real "live" opinion of the witness.

For Supreme Court Reporter. The name of A. N. Grant will be presented to the State convention at Fort Wayne, June 28, for Reporter of the Supreme Court. Four years ago Mr. Grant came within a very few votes of receiving the nomination for this office, Hon. J. L. Griffiths beating him by a very narrow margin. Notwithstanding Mr. Grant's defeat he at once entered heartily into the campaign, making a speech the next night after the convention in Greencastle, and from that on until Harrison's election his voice was heard in many towns and cities advocating the principles of the party of his choice. Mr. Grant has a wide and influential circle of friends throughout the State who gave him enthusiastic support in his former canvass and would be pleased to see him win. For twelve years last past he has been a successful member of the Colonel Walker will deliver an address at Carmel, Ind., this evening, and Sunday will speak at Battle-ground. Delegates Should Attend.

"The State central committee," said Secretary Frank Millikan, "expects to see every man who was elected a delegate part in the proceedings. Nothing short of sickness should excuse any one for delegating his vote to a proxy. The nominees should be the popular choice, and it should not be said that any nominee was forced upon the party."

Chairman Gowdy Returns. Chairman John K. Gowdy arrived in the city last night from his home in Rushville. He is much refreshed after the arduous work at the national convention, and is preparing for a vigorous campaign when the time comes.

Gone to Washington. J. B. Homan, of Danville, one of the committee to notify President Harrison of his nomination, left this city yesterday afternoon for Washington.

An Aged Woman Cleims to Have Been Mistreated by Her Niece.

Mary Comyer is at the station-house awaiting to be taken to the poor-farm. She is seventy-six years of age, and tells a pitiful story. She says that Tuesday night she was turned out of her home by a niece whom she had raised from a child. The difficulty grew out of a calico dress which the old lady accused her niece of having taken. She says that the niece became very angry when accused of taking the dress, and assaulted her, and tore her dress completely from her person. The old lady showed the bruises on her arm where her niece had pinched her. The niece's name is Scholer, and her husband runs a dairy in North Indianapolis. Both were arrested yesterday upon a warrant sworn out by Mrs. Comyer, charging them with assault and battery. They were released upon bond.

Injured in an Elevator. Powers & Murphy's ambulance was called to the L. E. & W. yards, yesterday afternoon, to remove Leonard Hendel to his home, 61 North New Jersey street. Hendel is engaged in the manufacture of bed-springs and carpet-stretchers, at Noblesville, and while running the elevator in his factory at the latter place the cable with a card party. A novel feature of the | broke and he fell, with the elevator, a distance of thirty feet. His right foot was severely mashed and his back injured. He was brought down on the L. E. & W. train and taken off at the yards. He is a married man, forty years of age.

> The City's Bank Clearings The agitation started by Mr. T. E. Griffith in the Commercial Club concerning the weekly statement of the bank clearings in Indianapolis, has resulted in an arrangement by which all the banks will be represented in the statement. Hitherto the Capitol National Bank has not been in the Clearing-house Association, and lately the Indiana Bank withdrew. This would have resulted in a falling off in the Indianapolis reports, which have for three years been showing a large increase, but for the action taken by the Commercial Club.

VIEWS THAT DO NOT AGREE

Col. J. H. Rice Thinks Cleveland Would Not Have Gray on the Ticket with Him, While "Farmer" Matthews Says the Stuffed Prophet lias a Longing to Affiliate with "Your Uncle Isaac"-Gray's Friends.

There is a well-defined disposition among the friends of Cleveland to accept it as settled that the ticket will be Cleveland

"Now, these fellows know well enough," said Col. James H. Rice, last night, "that the ticket can't be made to read that way. Cleveland beat Gray in 1888 for second place, and if he is nominated again he will not name any one from Indiana for second place. He has always hated Indians men, and will throw his influence for Stevenson, of Illinois, or for Boies, of lowa. Remember how he treated Vice-president Hendricks, because everybody believed that the electoral ticket was elected in the State because Hendricks was a part of it. Hendricks had to get down on his knees to name the postmaster, and when he wanted a place for a friend in the departments at Washington he would have to go from department to department like a mendicant. To crown it all, when our honored Hendricks died Cleveland would not even so much as attend his funeral. But when a man dies, there are few to fight for him. Talk about Gray having any chance for second place with such a man as Cleveland. Such talk comes from fellows who are afraid Gray will pre-vent the nomination of Cleveland." Secretary of State Matthews will go to Chicago Monday. He confesses to a deep interest in the result of the national convention because of its possible bearing on the result next November in Indiana. He hopes, therefore, that Governor Gray will be given a place on the ticket, and, it is inferred, would like to see the ticket made Cleveland and Gray. s there not an antagonism due to th

St. Louis convention that would prevent that?" asked a Journal reporter. "I know there is a current belief that Cleveland prevented the nomination of Gray as Vice-president in 1888, but I believe it was not due to dislike of Governor Gray but rather to attachment to Senator Thurman. In fact, I have good reasen to believe that Cleveland would this year prefer Gray as a running mate to any one else." "Do you expect a nomination on the first

"No, not on the first ballot; but it may be that Cleveland will be nominated on the second ballot. If it does not turn out so, then it is a free-for-all race. The two-thirds rule, however, is the only thing that stands in Cleveland's way. That was adopted in Van Buren's time to defeat him, and it succeeded in its purpose. It has been an unchangeable rule in the Democratic party ever since."

The Talk of Gray's Friends. Col. James H. Rice and State Senator Burke left at midnight for Chicago. While at the Grand Hotel awaiting the time to leave, the conversation drifted of course to politics, and Senator Burke told this

"Pat Donavan told me the other day in Jeffersonville that 90 per cent of the Democrats in Indiana are for Cleveland, and he took to roasting me pretty fiercely for believing that more are for Gray in Indiana than for Cleveland. To settle the matter I said, well, we will just ask the first fifty Democrats that pass by and see how they stand. We interrogated the first fifty, and every one was against Cleveland as the nominee this year. We then made it good measure and asked seven more, and they were all against Cleveland.
Donavan had told me he was going to Chicago to yell for Cleveland, and I told him to go in the newer light that our test vote showed. He had to throw up his hands. I made the same proposition to a friend of mine named Sweeney, but he got disgusted and mad before we had talked to forty. Every one of them doubted Cleveland's availability."

Governor Gray and Colonel Rice had a long talk in the hotel lobby during the evening. What passed between them is known only to themselves, except that Governor Gray is keeping cool and is feel-ing well satisfied with the outlook.

"What arrangement have you made for news from the convention?" was asked of "I will hear what is going on just as everybody else does," said he. "The West-ern Union offered to give me a private wire in my house or office, but I refused it."

HE USED A KNIFE.

James Alexander and Another Man Engage in a Fight.

James Alexander, a colored man employed as curb-setter by the Minnehaba Paving Company, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Constable Sorters upon a charge of assault and battery. He and a fellow-laborer named Payne had some difficulty, and he cut Payne several times on the arm with a knife, Payne's injuries were such that Powers & Murphy's ambu-lance was sent for and took him to his home, 761 Booker alley.

Alexander said that Payne wanted to boss him too much, and his objection started the quarrel. Words came to blows, and Payne struck him over the head with a stake, whereupon he pulled his knife and
